

No. of Mantras.	Page
------------------------	-------------

SECTION IX.

On the mode of reflecting upon the Agni-hotra and the advantages thereof.

1.—Anecdote shewing the propriety of reflecting upon the Hotri mantra as air, ...	497
2.—Merit thereof, ...	498
3.—The three-fold qualities of air, ...	ib.
4.—The action of air in relation to the earth, Agni, space, sun, sky and the quarters, ...	499
5.—Air when blowing from the East should be reflected upon as Prána , ...	ib.
6.—Ditto from the South should be reflected upon as Mátaris'vá , ...	ib.
7.—Ditto from the West should be reflected upon as Pavamána , ...	500
8.—Ditto from the North should be reflected upon as Sávitri , ...	ib.
9.—The traducer of those who reflect upon the Prána , traduced, ...	501
10.—Ditto ditto in connexion with the other three, ...	ib.
11.—Traduction a source of delight to those who are traduced, How so, explained, ...	502
12.—The advantage of not taking offence at traduction, ...	503
13.—The advantage of begging by those who reflect upon the air in the way described above, ...	ib.

SECTION X.

On the Praises of the Hotri mantras.

1.—Anecdote on the secretion of the Vedas by Soma and its recovery by Sitá, the daughter of Prajápatí, who appeared before him ornamented with sthágara an incense obtained by her through the Hotri mantras, ...	504
2.—The advantage of putting on the sthágara , ...	506

SECTION XI.

On the Praises of the Hotri mantras, (concluded).

1.—Anecdote regarding the origin of the term Dasa-hotri , ...	506
2.—Ditto ditto Sapta-hotri , &c., ...	507
3.—Especial praise of the Chatur-hotri , ...	508

FOURTH CHAPTER.

MANTRAS FOR SUBSIDIARY SACRIFICES OR UPAHOMAS.

SECTION I.

Upahoma Mantras.

1 to 4.—Upahoma mantras addressed to Agni, ...	510
5 to 8.—Ditto to Indra, ...	512