

No. of Mantras.	Page
4.—Mantra to be repeated when touching the four sides and the centre of the hide of the black antelope (an important article in the initiatory rites),	508
5.—Ditto to be recited when seated on the hide,	509
6.—Ditto to be addressed to the neophyte by the Adhvaryyu,	510
7.—The neophyte's address to the Ahavaniya fire,	511
8-9.—Mantras for the installation of the Ahavaniya fire by the Yajamana,	512
10.—Address to Somakrayani,	513
11.—Mantra to be repeated at the seventh step,	ib.
12.—Address to Tubrahmanya to be repeated by the Yajamana,	514
12.—Ditto to the altar for measuring it,	ib.
14.—Exhortation to the makers of the altar,	515
15.—Mantra for sanctifying the altar,	ib.
16.—Ditto for throwing away a brick-bat from the altar,	516
17.—Address to the sacrificial animal,	ib.

SECTION VIII.

Mantras for obviating accidents in regard to Sacrificial animals.

1.—Mantra to be repeated in offering the oblation for obviating the evil effect of a sacrificial animal crying at the time of sacrifice,	517
2.—A second mantra for the same,	518
3.—Mantra for offering an oblation to obviate the evil effects of the sacrificial animal sitting down at the time of sacrifice,	ib.
4.—Address to the animal so situated,	ib.
5.—Three mantras to be repeated, should the sacrificial animal shiver, tremble, or run away or die at the time of sacrifice,	519
6.—A common mantra for all the evils named above,	ib.
7.—Mantra for obviating the evil consequent on the death of the sacrificial animal before the sacrifice,	ib.