

No. of Mantras.	Page
6.—A question raised as to the propriety of slaughtering wild animals,	653
7.—The question decided,	ib.
8.—How the domestic animals are to be dealt with, ...	654

SECTION II.

The Cháturmásya and other animals.

1.—Anecdote in praise of the wild and the domestic animals,	654
2.— Cháturmásya animals defined,	655
3.— Ekádas'ina (eleven) animals defined,	656
4.— Dás'a (ten) animals defined,	657
5.—The meaning of the above numerals explained, ...	ib.
6.—Difference in the color, caste, &c., of animals according to the Devas for whom they are intended,	658

SECTION III.

Object of offering several animals to each divinity, and of mixing the fat of those animals together.

1.—Praise of the wild and the domestic animals,	659
2.—Three animals meet for each divinity,	ib.
3.—Object of giving many animals to each divinity, ...	ib.
4.—The fat of the three animals to be offered together, ...	660
5.—No offering can be made with the fat of wild animals, because they are let loose,	ib.

SECTION VI.

On yoking the horse to a car and ornamenting and anointing him.

1 and 2.—A verse on the subject of harnessing the horse to a car from the 7th Káṇḍa, of the Sañhitá explained, ...	661
3 to 5.—A verse on the subject of harnessing two other horses along with the sacrificial horse, from the same Káṇḍa, explained,	662
6.—Object of the above two verses,	ib.