

No. of Mantras.	Page
2.—Placing of a peg on the leather spread on the earth, described as the support of the sky,	41
3.—Placing of the grinding-stone on the peg on the leather,	ib.
4.—Placing of the muller on the grinding-stone, ..	ib.
5.—Throwing of rice on the grinding-stone,	ib.
6.—Increase of rice on the grinding-stone by virtue of the mantra,	ib.
7.—Mode of grinding the rice,	ib.
8.—The grinder to look at his arms with a view to proceed with the grinding without interruption,	42
9.—Placing of the ground rice on the leather,	ib.
10.—Address to wife and maids to proceed diligently and carefully with the grinding,	ib.

SECTION VII.

Placing of earthen Baking-pans on the fire.

1.—A bit of dry palásá wood to be brought to strike a fire, ..	42
2.—Bringing of two pieces of charcoal,	ib.
3.—Explanation of the mantra for putting a piece of burning charcoal on the pan, to destroy Rákshasas, ..	ib.
4.—Placing of the pan on hot charcoal,	ib.
5.—Placing of a piece of charcoal on the pan to enlighten the upper regions ordained,	ib.
6.—No charcoal wanted to enlighten the sky as the sun there supplies its place,	ib.
7.—The advantage of knowing the above,	43
8.—Mantras for the placing of the pans on the fire, ..	ib.
9.—Conclusion of the mantra for placing the earthen baking pans on the altar,	43
10.—The advantage of knowing the rules regarding the placing of the pans,	ib.
11.—The advantage of using three pans,	ib.
12.—The advantage of using eight pans,	ib.
13-14.—The advantage of placing the pans as recommended,	ib.
15.—The meaning of the mantra for the consecration of the 8th pan,	44